

SN Street & Block Preparedness Module 3 Exam

1. The bedrock layer of your preparedness is your personal preparedness?
  - a.  True  False
2. Each person who may find themselves in a disaster should have become informed, made a plan, built a kit, and gotten involved.
  - a.  True  False
3. Each person who may find themselves in a disaster in Salt Lake City/County should be familiar with the S.A.F.E. Neighborhoods (SN) Volunteer Disaster Response Plan.
  - a.  True  False
4. SN volunteer response moves up from you, through the residence/work place, the street/block, the combined street rally points, elementary school Hub and Hub to city Emergency Operations Center levels.
  - a.  True  False
5. After disaster you as a spontaneous volunteer responder check/tend yourself, then those in your residence/work place, and then move on to the street/ block level activity.
  - a.  True  False
6. SN Preparedness encourages practice before a disaster, training neighbors in assessing & helping neighbors along your street or within your workplace complex.
  - a.  True  False
7. The SN Plan encourages prior practice using the street assessment form explained in Module 3 and which street residences should have copies of in their response kits.
  - a.  True  False
8. Being able to complete a street assessment form is one of the most important response skills to practice.
  - a.  True  False
9. CERT training is a valuable asset to have in a big emergency or disaster situation.
  - a.  True  False
10. Mark items below that are useful in good street assessments
  - a. Your current map of your street and a Jit Kit map of your neighborhood
  - b. Your current street assessment form that integrates the above, for efficient reporting of current conditions to the Hub and EOC
  - c. A CERT style volunteer response kit
  - d. Current Street Co-captains and a trained SN Local Ambassador
11. Mark all items below that should happen in street reporting?
  - a. Reports go to Street Captains and/or to current operating Hub Field Ops leaders
  - b. These Street Captains/Hub Field ops Leaders forward them to their Hub, sometimes through the locally developing rally point networks.
  - c. They languish and have no prompt effect.
12. As streets respond they should coordinate local their rally points and also donate response resources to establish an elementary school management Hub.
  - a.  True  False
13. The response plan is important enough to occasionally practice, because in a disaster we become the life-saving, first responders as agency responders will be overwhelmed.
  - a.  True  False
14. Email your exam and learn more about the above to/at SLCARC.org
  - a.  True  False

The pass threshold for this exam will be 10 correctly answered questions. Train safely, as you are responsible for your safety, and please consider becoming a Local SN's Ambassador.